European Cardio-Oncology Symposium 2019

The European Cardio-Oncology Symposium (ECOS) 2019 meeting is an innovative continuing medical education (CME) event held 17-19 October 2019 at the Hotel Barcelona Center, Barcelona, Spain.

The 2-day meeting is designed to meet the educational needs of the full multidisciplinary cardio-oncology team, and those interested in setting up a cardio-oncology service:

- cardiologists, clinical oncologists, radiation oncologists, specialist nurses, pharmacists, and other professionals involved in managing patients with cancer.

Eligibility

The abstract content must be pertaining to or of direct relevance to the field of cardio-oncology. Applicants should be specialists in training, specialist nurses, pharmacists, or other healthcare professionals active in this area.

We are accepting original research and case studies, but will give priority to submissions describing the practicalities of setting up or managing a cardio-oncology service, and the real-world challenges faced by the evolving multidisciplinary team.

The primary author of the abstract must be the presenter and a registered delegate for the ECOS 2019. The contribution must not promote a company, product or service or be promotional in nature.

Oral presentation

There may be the additional opportunity to present the poster as an oral presentation. In this case, the presentation must be delivered by the primary author and be no longer than 10 minutes. As ECOS 2019 will be certified for CME credit, the presenting author will need to complete the financial declaration and disclosure process.

Application process

Abstracts (maximum 250 words) must be submitted by Friday 16 August 2019.

Applicants will be notified of the outcome by Friday 30 August 2019.

The Abstract Application Form can be found here.
